In Oberlin, on Friday last, a woman went out visiting and left her child, aged about 13 months old, playing with broom before the fire. The funeral occurred Saturday morning.

It is probable that Rev. Dr. McCosh, President of Princeton College, will visit the city of Oaks next week, and will be entertained either by Judge Fowle or Dr. Hogg.

Rev. John F. Duffield, Professor of Mathematics in Princeton College, New Jersey, is on a visit to our city, the guest of our distinguished fellow-citizen, Hon. D. G. Fowle. He has been in delicate health and has just returned from Florida, much improved.

NOT SERIOUS.—The injuries inflicted upon the rebellious convict at the State Penitentiary on Friday last by the guard, are not of a serious character.

He is recovering.

CONVALESCENT.—We are pleased to learn that Geo. W. Thompson, a prominent citizen of this county, is recovering from his late serious illness.

EX PASSANT.—Col. Bushyhead, the Chief of the Cherokee Indians, in this State, passed through the city on Saturday enroute to Washington city.

INJUNCTION.—Judge Moore, threatens to unwind the keeper of the Capital if he trips any more of the old oaks in the Capital ground.

WHALING.—From a dispatch received in this city on Saturday from Prof. Kerr we learn that two tremendous whales were captured near Cape Lookout, on Friday.

RELIGIOUS.—Rev. John T. Duffield,

D. D., Professor in the College of New Jersey, Princeton, will hold divine service this (Sunday) morning, in the COMMISSIONER'S COURT.

A Colored Radical in Disguise Beats

His Father and Mother.

COMMISSIONER'S COURT.—Before U. S.

Commissioner R. W. Best, April 12th 1872.

Ephraim Lashly, col'd, from Wake county, was on Friday brought before the Commissioner Court upon the charge of Ku-Kluxing or going in disguise to his father's premises and unmercifully beating both his father and mother, in January 1871. Upon investigation the charge was sustained and the defendant bound over to the U. S.

Circuit Court in the sum of $500.

"A LEGAL ADMONITION."—During the progress of the trial of Mark Williams,

"trespass and assault and battery" upon

Mrs. Teasley, on Saturday, and while this lady was giving in her evidence, she was thus admonished by the Williams Counsel: "Mrs. Teasley, allow me to admonish you feelingly to consider with exactitude whether you had ocular demonstration of the fact that Mr. Williams manipulated the axe in such close proximity to your person as to make a physical impression either upon the abdominal or ventral portion of your corpal organization." Answer, "I'll do no such thing, Sir."

FASHION CHIT-CHAT—BLACK THREAD

NET BONNETS.—Real thread net, perfectly plain—that is, without dot or

for those black bonnets that ladies living in cities consider not only most stylish, but most economical. This net is more substantial than tulle, but less heavy, and with smaller meshes than Brussels net. It is made up over lace frames, often being laid plainly on the frame, and is piped with black turquoise silk. Real thread lace in its garniture, with coronets, lace bands, and butterflies of the finely cut jet, spirited aigrettes and wings, short curled, or trich tips of light color, and above all wreaths of leaves. The trimming is massed in front in Alsatian fashion; a onebonnet has the great bow of two leaves of lace with a jet butterfly in the center, another has a cluster of ivy leaves in front with trailing vines, a third has tea-roses, and all have drooping ends of the net hanging low behind. Wide lace strings are preferred with these bonnets. A black net bonnet can be made youthful looking by putting a pale blue tulle bow in front, and a Pompadour rose of natural color tipped with blue on the crown, with trailing buds at the back. A pale gray rose, strewn with flame tints, and a tea-rose with black marks, as if partly charred, trim another.

SAM'L T. WILLIAMS, Political Editor.

MONDAY, APRIL 15, 1872.

STATE CONVENTION.

The State Convention of the Democratic-Conservative Party of North Carolina will meet at Greensboro on Wednesday, the first day of May next.

DEMOCRATIC CONSERVATIVE MEETING.

There will be a meeting of the Democratic Conservative Party of the county of Northampton, at Margarettsville, on Saturday, April 20th, for the purpose of selecting delegates to the Greensboro Convention.

R. B. PEEBLES,
Chairman of Ex. Committee for the county of Northampton.

The Political Editor being absent, our readers will please excuse any shortcomings in this department of the News to-day.

GEN. ALFRED M. SCALES DECLINES TO BE A CANDIDATE.

We publish below a letter from Gen. Alfred M. Scales, of Rockingham, declining to allow his name to go before the Greensboro Convention as the Democratic candidate for Governor. The letter was published in the Robesonian, and is as follows:

WENTWORTH, March 30th, 1872.

Mr. Editor:—My attention has just been called to an article in your paper of the 21st inst., headed "Is He Banned?" fully endorsing me as a candidate for the duty of the Greensboro Convention in nominating gentlemen for the various State offices who are free from all political disabilities. My disabilities have never been removed, and I can't say that I have now any well grounded expectations that they will be during this session of Congress. I am deeply grateful to my friends in various parts of the State for the kindness and partiality, unsolicited, which they have manifested in bringing my name so prominently forward at this time for the gubernatorial office, but I presume they all did so, either upon the idea that my disabilities had been removed, or that a general amnesty bill would pass before the meeting of the convention. However this may be, I would urge upon them and upon all with whom I have any influence, to come up to the Greensboro Convention resolved to nominate no man unless he has been freed from all disabilities. We want no difficulty with the general government. We want peace and quiet and a union of all who are pledged to retrenchment and reform, both in the State and National governments. Let our standard bearers be men that will inspire confidence—moderate though reliable—and extreme in nothing, save in devotion to the best interests of their State. With such, unnumbered by disabilities, we must and will be triumphant.

Respectfully, your obedient servant,

A. M. SCALES.

Prominently mentioned in connection with the gubernatorial chair, in every way fitted, by education and natural ability, for this distinguished position, he, yet, declines the proffered honor, and, burying all personal considerations to the great interests of his native State, furnishes a noble example of purity of action and patriotic principles.

The numerous friends of Gen. Scales would be proud to see him in this exalted station, but that injustice which has fallen to the lot of so many of the sons of the South, has not spared him. His political disabilities are a bar to those offices of trust which he would fill with honor to himself, and credit to his State.

The example of this distinguished son of the old North State, is worthy of emulation, and such principles should be the guide of our representatives to the Greensboro Convention. As he well says in his letter: "Let all come up to the Greensboro Convention, resolved to nominate no man unless he has been freed from all political disabilities."

The people of North Carolina have too much at stake to be guilty of such folly as to make any one a standard bearer who will not be allowed to serve it elected, and should they take such a false step, they will learn a bitter lesson, alas, too late. Many of the most distinguished citizens of the State are banned, which

Our friends throughout the State will place us under obligations if they will furnish us with any items of news that may transpire in their respective sections, as we desire to make this department especially full.

As it will not be long till the Conservative Democratic Convention meets at Greensboro, to nominate a State ticket to be voted for at the approaching election, allow me to suggest the name of W. P. Welch, Esq., of Haywood county, as a suitable person to be run for the office of Lieutenant Governor. Mr. Welch has represented his county for four years in the lower house of the Legislature, and has won for himself a State reputation, as an able and fearless debater. He is bold, patriotic, and popular, as a man, and his name on our ticket would be a tower of strength in these Western counties. Upon the stump, especially, would his services render to our advantage in the coming campaign. Give us Welch for Lieutenant Governor and our mountain counties will roll up a tremendous majority for our ticket. HAYWOOD.

Terrible Rail Road Accident—A Passenger Train Breaks Through a Bridge and is a Complete Wreck.

That portion of the New York and Oswego Railroad line lying within the State of New Jersey is known as the New Jersey Midland Railroad Company. This road has but recently been completed between Paterson and Hackensack, and regular passenger trains have been running about a month. Opening a region of country heretofore isolated, and being the first means of communication between Paterson and Hackensack, the road has been remarkably well patronized.

Nearly all the bridges along the line, between Paterson and Hackensack, are of the "Post Patent Combination," made of wood and iron, and built by the Watson Manufacturing Company, in Paterson. These bridges have proven dangerous failures. One of these combination bridges was the cause of a fearful accident yesterday morning on the New Jersey Midland Railway, at the Lodi crossing of Saddle River, which is about four miles from Paterson and one mile and a half from Hackensack. Saddle River is a mere brook in the dry season, but frequently swells up during storms. The combination bridge on which the Midland crosses is a single span of sixty feet. The employees have always been afraid of it, as it swayed and bent; but the Watson Manufacturing Company, being a responsible corporation, the railroad company placed faith in their protestations that the bridge was perfectly safe.

At five o'clock yesterday morning, a train of sixteen freight cars, loaded with gravel, passed over safely; but it is supposed that it snapped the timbers, and that it was then held together simply by the small iron rods. The next train left Paterson for Hackensack at eight o'clock. It consisted of the locomotive, one passenger car and two freight cars, the latter in the rear. In addition to the train hands and railroad employees, there were twenty-five passengers, who got on at Paterson. Arriving at the Lodi Bridge, the locomotive rushed over safely, but just as the passenger train was crossing, the bridge actually snapped in two at the middle as sharply as a match, and went down with the passenger car in a complete wreck, while the locomotive on one end and the baggage cars on the other were pulled in on top of the passenger car. The latter settled down on one end, landing the passengers, seats, stoves and broken timbers of the cars and bridge in one confused heap at the bottom of the river, which is six or eight feet in depth. It seems miraculous that the frightened passengers escaped immediate death. Yet there was but one man killed outright, a brakeman named John R. Doreus. One side of his head was swept off, and his legs and arms were mangled frightfully. The tender was thrown to a distance of seventy feet, the passenger car was smashed to atoms and the freight car completely demolished, and there was nothing visible but a mass of timbers and bent iron.

The engineer and firemen were severely hurt, and were conveyed to their homes in Wertenkyde by a special car. Their recovery is doubtful. The conductor and all the other hands were badly injured. Several of the passengers were cut or bruised, but none of them is hoped, seriously. The wrecked train was taken to the neighboring houses and kindly cared for until the arrival of surgeons from Paterson, and Hackensack, and as soon as possible they were all removed to their homes by special trains. The company ordered everything for the victims of the accident that could be invented for their comfort.

The train was going at a moderate speed, as it was a new road, and there was danger of washings and landslides after the heavy rains of the previous night. The company had been repeatedly assured of the safety of the bridge, and had relied upon the opinions of the engineers who inspected it.

Every person in the car was injured more or less seriously. John Richard Doreus, a brakeman, was the only one killed. It was feared at first that there were some killed under the ruins; but it is now believed that such is not the case, all who were on the train having been accounted for. The accident created the wildest excitement in Paterson and other places along the line of the Midland Railway. It will take several days to repair the damage sufficiently for the resumption of travel between Paterson and Hackensack.—N. Y. Herald 11th.

Several companies have been organized in various towns on the Southern coast of California, in Santa Barbara, Los Angeles and San Bernardino counties. The cultivation of the semi-tropical fruits will be the chief industry of the settlers.

A story of brutal cruelty on the part of a doctor, comes from Foughkeepsie, N. Y. A young girl was horse-whipped by her father, thrown into a creek, and otherwise brutally treated. The jury inquest rendered a verdict of death from "exposure."

Ferdinand Schilling and Dennis K. Ferguson became involved in a difficulty in Roanoke county, Va., which resulted in the death of the latter.

The body of Jo. Davis, colored, who was drowned at Petersburg, Va., a short time since, has been recovered.

Samuel C. Perrie, one of the most expert bank burglars in the country, escaped from jail at Worcester, Mass., a day or two since.

HOME.

Home's not merely four square walls, Though with pictures hung and gilded;
Home is where affection calls, Filled with smiles the heart hath built!
Home!—go watch the faithful dove—Sailing 'neath the heaven above us—Home is where there's one to love!
Home is where there's one to love us!

Home's not merely roof and room, It needs something to endear it;
Home is where the heart can bloom, Where there's some kind lip to cheer it!
What is home with none to meet?
None to welcome, none to greet us?
Home is sweet, and only sweet, Where there's one we love to meet us!

What Great Men have been Fond Of.

Who would have imagined that the grave, philosophic Socrates, during his hours of leisure, took pleasure in dancing? Yet it was so. Many other wise men besides Socrates have taken activity in music. Epaminondas used to take pleasure in singing at village festivals. The cruel Nero fiddled while Rome was burning; at least, he played the harp, for there were not, as yet, fiddles in those days. Luther delig-ted in playing the flute, and thus used to soothe his excited feelings. Frederick II. of Prussia played the most violent pieces of music with the same instrument. An hour's playing generally sufficed to reduce him to perfect tranquility. Milton delighted in playing the organ, and composed several fine palm tunes, which are to this day sung in our churches. Bentham was passionately fond of music, and played the organ; there was scarcely a room in his house without a piano. Gainsborough, the painter, was a capital performer on the violin. Byron's great delight was in flowers, and while in Italy he purchased a fresh bouquet every day. Byron was also fond of animals; in his youth he made a friend of a boar. Goethe rarely passed a day without bringing out from the chimney corner a live snake, which he kept there, and caressed it like a bosom friend. Tiberius, a Roman Emperor, also made an intimate companion of a serpent. Augustus was exceedingly fond of a parrot, but still more so of a quail, the loss of which made him as sad as if he had lost a battle.

A Connecticut fisherman one day baited his hook with a live frog. After patiently waiting some time for a bite, as he chatted with a friend, he found that his lively bait had swum ashore and was sitting quietly on the rock by his side. He wound up his line and went home.

The Englishman who said, "I pity all women!" because they have no wife, did not agree, with Lady Montague, who said "all women" have never forgiven for saying, "The only gratification I have in being a woman is in not being compelled to marry one of my own sex."

Little Johnny's mother dusted his pantaloons the other evening for hooking the jelly; she was surprised to see him laugh over it and demanded the cause. "It was thinking how I fooled you; it was Carry who hooked the jelly."

"How many unfortunates have fallen in war?" said a spinster to a veteran general, who was also a veteran bachelor. "Not half so many, madam, as have fallen in love!" was his testy reply.

A man who was driving a cow through the street, of Waupun, Wis., was so much flustered by a sudden bow from a lady that in return he made a bow to the cow and threw a stone at the lady.

A young man was expostulated by his sweatshirt for drinking whisky but gave the answer, that it was in order to see two angels instead of one, when looking at her.

A wag, in "what he knows about farming" gives a very good plan to remove widow's weeds. He says a good looking man has only to say "Wilt thou," and they will.

The dandy element seems to pervade all nature. Even among flowers, which are emblems of modesty, we have the dandies.

Why are the photographers uncivil?
Because when we make application for a copy of our portrait they always reply with a negative.

The total number of hogs packed in the West for the season just closed was 5,827,555, against 3,595,251 the previous season, being an increase of 1,125, 304.

A French lady sent a challenge to a gentleman who had meddled with her affairs. A question arose with regard to the "arms." A bridal tour to the United States was the result.

"All maidens are very good," says one moralist; "but where do the bad wives come from?" The bad wives are the maidens turned sour.

"Who's there?" cried a patrol to a passing figure, one dark night. "It's I, patrol; don't be afraid," replied an old woman.

Lumkin says that it is perfectly natural that lovers should sometimes quarrel.
Those who fall in love must expect to fall out.

Tit for Tat—It is beauty's privilege to kill Time; and, in revenge, Time kills beauty.

"What are you doing there?" said a grocer to a fellow who was stealing his lard. "I am getting fat," was the reply.

GUANO GUANO!! GUANO!!!

WALNUT HILL, N. C., Feb. 16, 1872.

Messrs. A. G. Lee & Co., Raleigh.

GENTLEMEN:—By your request, I herewith submit the result of an experiment on cotton, with different kinds of Guano of you last season. I planted twenty rows, using on the last four nothing.

On the 2nd row, 54 lbs of Peruvian.

4th " " " Bat.

5th " " " Phosphate and Peruvian mixed (1-5 Peruvian and 4-5 Phosphate)— the belt of land all being of the same quality. The Guanos were all accurately weighed when put in, the cotton carefully weighed from each set of rows when picked out, and the cost of each kind of Guano correctly calculated, with interest at 8 per cent, per annum added. Taking the first four rows (without Guano) as a basis, the following is the result:

Net profit on the 2nd row (Peruvian), on the money laid out, 71 1/2 per cent.

Net loss on the 3rd row (Peruvian), on the money laid

out, 10 1/2 per cent.

Net loss on the 4th row (Bat) on the money laid out, 26 1/2 per cent.

Net profit on the 5th row (mixture) on the money laid out, 94 per cent.

The cotton was put at 6 1/2 cents per pound in the seed.

Very respectfully yours,

A. T. MIAL.

We can furnish all the above kinds of Guano here at the following rates for cash:

Peruvian, 50 lbs per ton, $57 50

Wando Fertilizer, 50 lbs per ton, 50 00

Phosphate of Lime, 50 lbs per ton, 50 00

Soluble Sea Island Guano, 60 lbs per ton, Zeol's Ammoniated superphosphate, 50 lbs per ton, 57 50 per ton.

Parties desiring it can get any of the above
